AMERICAN TROOPS SEIZE TEANO, AN IMPORTANT JUNCTION OF 4 STRATEGIC ROADS NEAR FORMER SEA ANCHOR BASE

New Gains Threaten To Roll Nazi Flank Eastward From Sea—British 8th Army Also Spurts Forward Along The Isernia Highway To Seize Cantalupo

ALGIERS, Nov. 1.—(INS)—American troops of the Fifth Army were revealed today to have seized Teano, junction of four strategic roads 12 miles northeast of the former sea anchor base for the Nazi line at Mondragone.

The new gains, which threatened to roll the Nazi flank eastward from the sea, came after the Americans, in their first skirmish of the battle for Mount Massico, stormed into the town of Nocellato, at the foot of the formidable mountain.

To the east, the British Eighth Army spurred forward along the Isernia highway to seize Cantalupo, threatening to outflank the western sector of the Massico line.

The Eighth Army also seized Frosolone, 25 miles north of Campobasso, driving a "deep wedge" into the center of the Nazi line, while the Fifth Army's advance to the foot of Mount Massico engulfed the village of Valle Agricola.

Judge Claude T. Reno
Candidate for Bench

One of Pennsylvania's most distinguished jurists, Judge of the Superior Court Claude Trexler Reno, of Allentown, is the popular Republican candidate for a full 10-year term to the office he now holds, at the November election. He was appointed to the Superior Court bench by former Governor Arthur H. James late last year.

Judge Reno, who has a legion of friends and supporters in Bucks county, among Republicans and Democrats alike, conducted court in Doylestown on a number of occasions.

He was born April 4, 1882, at Lyons, Berks county, the son of Joseph F. and Millie J. (Trexler) Reno. When he was six months old his parents moved to Allentown, where he has resided ever since.

Judge Reno was educated in the public and high schools of Allentown, Muhlenberg College and Dickinson Law School. In 1928, Muhlenberg College conferred the degree of LL. D. upon him. He was admitted to the Lehigh County Bar in 1905.

From 1908 to 1912, he was County Solicitor of Lehigh county. He was a member of the Pennsylvania State House of Representatives from 1910 to 1912; solicitor for the city of Allentown, 1920-21 and solicitor for Allentown school district, 1920-21.

In November, 1921, he was appointed Judge of the 21st Judicial District by Governor Sprout to fill a vacancy; elected in 1923 for the full ten year term and became President Judge from which he voluntarily retired at the expiration of his term.

In January, 1939, Judge Reno was appointed Attorney General of Pennsylvania by former Governor James. He conducted that office with distinction until he was asked to consider an appointment to the Superior Court bench, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Judge J. E. B. Cunningham, of Philadelphia, which he did, upon appointment by former Governor James.

Judge Reno is a former president of the Alpha Tau Omega college fraternity and past State president of the Patriotic Order Sons of America. He is a member of the board of trustees of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Mt. Airy and Dickinson School of Law, and a member of the national executive board of the United Lutheran Church.

Pennsylvanians were never privileged to vote for a higher type and better equipped candidate for the Superior Court bench.

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Instead of presenting a program at their meeting in the memorial house, at Langhorne, Wednesday evening, the members of the Middle town Grange conducted a Halloween party which was open to the public.

Approximately 55 persons attended the meeting, a feature of which was the awarding of prizes.

Included among the prize winners were the following: Most attractive costume, Herbert Heston; ugliest, Mrs. Charles Lowmes; most difficult to identify, Miss Sara Thompson, and most original, Miss Elizabeth Short.

Persons failing to come masked were fined, and the money was placed in the war bond fund.

Another feature of the meeting was a corn judging contest, of which Herman Heston, Jr., and Mrs. Amos Kirk were the winners. Later in the evening games were played and cider and doughnuts were served.

A brief business session was conducted by the master, Herman Heston, and at that time one application for membership was received.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, November 10.

The body of a man pulled out of the Delaware River at Lumberville, Wednesday afternoon at 2.30, by bridge police, was identified as Milo Bertine Schaffer, 40, of 430 East Hamilton street, Allentown.

About 1.50 Wednesday afternoon the body was noticed in the middle of the river under the Point Pleasant-Byram, N. J., bridge, by Bridge Policeman Ed Naylor, who immediately notified the police on the Lumberville bridge.

Bridge Policemen Richard Snyder and E. Walter Rice, in a boat, recovered the body 40 minutes later as it floated down stream in the river that had risen about four feet as a result of recent rains.

According to New Jersey State Police, Schaffer, single, and a married woman were in the boat.

VOTE REPUBLICAN TOMORROW

Tomorrow is election day in Bucks County. It is the duty of every citizen who believes in Constitutional government to vote. It is his duty to see that his family and friends vote.

The Republican Party has given the people of Bucks County good government ever since the birth of that political philosophy in 1856.

That is the reason why The Courier believes the Republican candidates for state, county and borough officers should be elected.

Their election will guarantee a continuation of sound, progressive and economical government.

VOTE REPUBLICAN AND PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT IN GOOD GOVERNMENT.

Democratic candidates for county offices have campaigned on a platform of New Deal policies.

Most insidious feature of New Deal government is its destruction of public morale by vaporous appeals to the mass mind which plainly are designed to make the people of this country more and more dependent upon the phoney paternalism of bureaucratic Washington.

The strangulating influence of governments which curb the creative and productive genius of man has no place among our American institutions for only by the liberation of the human spirit can man produce, prosper and become strong.

The New Deal philosophy of government, which Democratic candidates would install in Bucks County, encourages the regimentation and socialization of every American resource. It is the philosophy of totalitarian rule backed by the insatiable political greed of men who consider themselves above the Constitutional laws of this land.

The history of the New Deal shows that it has destroyed personal initiative; has taught American youth that government owes them a living; powers of the state are being confiscated or liquidated; the three coordinate branches of government guaranteed by our Constitution have been rendered ineffective by seizure of unparalleled authority; the great fortunes which furnished the capital to build our industrial and transportation empires are being systematically attacked and dissipated by a multiplicity of taxes; free enterprise is threatened with extinction and all that is basically American is endangered by a political dictatorship impervious to logic and indifferent to laws.

BUCKS COUNTY WANTS NO PART OF THIS KIND OF POLITICAL DEBAUCHERY. The horribly incompetent record of the New Deal shows that it long ago scuttled its parliamentary interest in good government. The bureaucrats have befogged the course of free society and made human progress subject to the whims of political insolence and egotism.

Conversely, the working people of Bucks County have prospered under Republican government.

The "tax, spend and elect" doctrine of the New Deal has succeeded only in running the country tragically into debt. If this wastrel policy found pre-war America floundering under the intolerable load of a SIXTY BILLION DOLLAR deficit WITHOUT PROVIDING JOBS FOR MORE THAN 10,000,000 UNEMPLOYED MEN AND WOMEN what is our post-war outlook under the New Deal WITH AN ALMOST CERTAIN FEDERAL DEBT OF MORE THAN THREE HUNDRED BILLIONS?

No one criticizes necessary war expenditures but what Washington won't admit is that billions for non-essentials are being frittered away under the cloak of war so that the party drones and parasites among the 3,000,000 Federal payrolls can continue to eat out the substance of the nation while the

FOUR GUNNERS SHOT WHILE HUNTING GAME

Edward Budney, Edgely, Is
Shin Bone

TWO AT DOYLESTOWN

There were four gunning accidents in Bucks County, Saturday, the opening day of the gunning season. Two occurred in the lower end of Bucks County and the other two in the middle area of the county.

Edward Budney, of Bristol Pike, Edgely, was shot in the left leg and was treated at the office of Dr. Frank Lehman.

Budney suffered a small wound on the front of the left shin bone. The injury was inflicted by a pellet from a shotgun fired, according to police reports, by Stephan Duzenski, Pratt street, Philadelphia.

At Hulmeville, Harold H. Haefner had shot removed from his forehead, other pellets grazing his arm. The shot was fired by another hunter aiming at game nearby.

The two were shooting at a pheasant in a field near Edgely. The shot from Duzenski's gun glanced off a stone or a tree and struck Budney.

The wound was X-rayed at the office of Dr. J. Fred Wagner and treated at the office of Dr. Lehman.

The Doylestown boys, Jack Beatty and Joseph Griffin, both 15, were hunting in the Buckingham Valley, about seven miles east of Doylestown, when they were wounded. Neither was injured seriously. They were taken to Doylestown Emergency Hospital where a few pellets were removed.

SOME "FATHERS" ARE EXAMINED FOR ARMY

A Few Such Volunteer To Undergo Examinations;
These Fill Out Quota

MANY AT THE STATION

In the group of approximately 140 men who left here this morning for physical examinations leading to service in the armed forces, the only "fathers" summoned for such examination were some volunteer registrants. The term "fathers," as far as the selective service boards are concerned, are those who have children born prior to September 15, 1942, the pre-Pearl Harbor group.

The only men with children who are being examined today, excepting those who are volunteering to undergo examination now, are those whose children were born since September 15, 1942.

At Bristol railroad station to see the men off on the 8.25 train this morning were representatives of the Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion; the Bristol high school band in brilliant costumes, the "36 for Victory" organization, which distributed cigarettes to the registrants; and many relatives and friends of the men.

Those chosen for the army will be privileged to wait three weeks before starting training; while those named for the coast guard, navy and marine corps will enter upon training at various dates.

The Selective Service Board, No. 1, in a recent announcement stated that in the immediate future it would be necessary to start calling "fathers" to service. The fact that some volunteered to go for examination today, filled in the ranks and made it unnecessary to definitely call any of those having older children.

Bristol Methodists
Mark 155th Anniversary

Bristol Methodists yesterday marked the 155th anniversary of the church when the Rev. E. R. Cook, S. T. D., preached an anniversary sermon at the morning service. Greetings were brought to the Bristol church from the Burlington Methodist Church by William Zelley.

Next Sunday the Rev. John Watchorn will be the speaker both at the morning and evening services. In the evening Dr. Watchorn will show 70 colored pictures of the Oberammergau Passion Play which he took in 1930 and 1934.

Fire Damages House
On Radcliffe Street

Fire yesterday afternoon damaged the roof of the property 325 Radcliffe street. The house which was formerly owned by the James Blanche Estate, caught fire in an undetermined manner.

The blaze was found by the firemen to be under the roof near a third floor window. The flames spread through an air chamber and the roof had to be cut open.

Hose lines were run from fire hydrants and water used in quenching the flames ran down into the second floor. Firemen spread tarpaulins over the furniture to protect it.

The damage is roughly estimated by Chief Hagerman at about $500.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

The Ladies Auxiliary of Bristol Fire Co., No. 1, will hold a monthly meeting this evening at 8.15, at the fire house, Wood and Market streets.

Republican Chairman A.
Harry Clayton Is Confident of Victory

At the election to be held tomorrow in Bucks County officials will be chosen in boroughs, townships and the county at large. The polls will open at seven o'clock in the morning and close at eight o'clock in the evening.

There are 45,900 qualified voters in the county privileged to cast a ballot.

In registration, Republicans held considerably better than a two-to-one lead over Democrats with 30,884 to 12,239. There are 1674 persons registered as non-partisan, and 104 in the "all other party group."

An "overwhelming victory" is the prediction of A. Harry Clayton, Republican County Chairman.

Mr. Clayton says:

"The Republican Party has given Bucks county good, honest, progressive, economical government. Year after year, it has acted with wisdom, courage and vision to preserve, protect and promote the welfare of all people, regardless of race, class, color or creed."

"There is no place in Bucks county government for political adventurers and self-seekers who boldly proclaim the dangerous philosophy of the New Deal and who seek to substitute our treasury for their own."

Supper Is A Part Of
Emilie Anniversary

EMILIE, Nov. 1.—A covered dish supper was held on Wednesday evening at the Emilie Church as part of the 100th anniversary celebration.

The Rev. O. J. Randall, of Lansdowne, was the speaker and recalled memories of Emilie when he became pastor of the church 40 years ago.

The church was built by the Presbyterians in 1843 but after the Civil War was taken over by a group of Methodists, it was stated. The Rev. Mr. Randall gave both serious and humorous reminiscences. He entertained with several comic songs.

The affair was attended by over 100 persons.

The Rev. and Mrs. Randall were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wink.

The Rev. and Mrs. Warren A. Smith, Philadelphia, were Monday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed; and the Rev. Eugene B. Harsberger was a Thursday overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Lovett.

WHAT OUR BOYS

Leonard E. Edgely, 19, seaman 2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Edgely, RFD No. 2, Bristol, has completed basic training at the submarine school, submarine base, New London, Conn., for duty with our growing fleet of undersize fighters.

The new submariner will be entitled to wear the twin dolphin insignia of the submarine service after further experience aboard a submarine during which he must demonstrate to his commanding officer that he is fully qualified to carry out the duties of his rate. The insignia is regarded as a mark of distinction throughout the Navy.

A graduate of Bensalem High, Cornwallis Heights, winning track, football and basketball letters there, Edgely joined the Navy last November and received initial training at Baldrige, Maryland.

The submarine school the only one of its kind in the Navy, is attended by a picked group of men who must pass special physical, mental, and psychological tests.

The school work takes place not only in classrooms and laboratories, but also in numerous training submarines in which students master the actual techniques of operating the powerful fighting craft.

Many students at Submarine School already have seen battle as members of surface ship crews before volunteering for submarine duty.

TIRE LANGUAGE

It appears that motorists may become familiar with synthetic rubber tires over a period of years—although not in the immediate future—and therefore a start in acquiring familiarity with classifications by types is timely. Currently, the different combinations used in synthetic rubber tires and their technical names are as follows:

S-1—80% synthetic tread on natural rubber carcass.

S-2—50% synthetic tread on a natural rubber carcass.

S-3—100% synthetic tread. 100% synthetic carcass, an all-synthetic tire.

S-4—90% synthetic, 10% natural rubber, distributed throughout the casing as the manufacturer may desire.

S-5—100% synthetic tread on natural rubber carcass.

S-6—70% synthetic, 30% natural rubber, distributed throughout the casing as the manufacturer may desire.

S-7—Alternate for S-5 permitting the manufacturer to vary the amounts of synthetic and natural between carcass and tread.

Much dust will blow down the road before the average motorist will be able to buy any of these types of rubber substitute tires without a ration certificate, but there is a faint note of encouragement in the news that production of synthetic tires is expected to reach a high peak by spring.

A LOSING ARMY

The news from Italy that the German armies have turned savagely vengeful against the Italians and are now murdering civilians, burning houses, destroying livestock, tearing up railroads and devastating the country generally is the surest proof that the Anglo-American troops are fighting a beaten army.

It is the mark of the loser—and a bad loser—to destroy wantonly as he retreats. It is simple proof that the German commanders have lost all hope of ever retaking the ground that they are giving up.

The various stockyards are crowded with cattle, but the dining tables are not overburdened with steaks.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol March 16, 1882. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

David L. German, of Doylestown, and Thomas S. Atkinson, of Burlington, on February 25th, graduated from the Pennsylvania College of Dental Surgery, the exercises occurring in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia.

Ellas Shellenberger, chief Burgess of Sellersville, has posted a notice on the lamps of the borough, notifying the high constable of the borough that he is to take notice of all tramps passing through the borough from house to house, except on business, and must deal with them according to law.

Ex-Register Hugh B. Campbell was last week admitted to practice in the courts of Bucks County.

A few weeks ago, a dog belonging to Edward Minster, above Bristol, went mad, and bit a portion of his stock, which have been since killed. On Sunday one of his horses was attacked with hydrophobia.

Charles H. Fenton has gone into the butchering business at Milton Webster's old stand.

The Delaware Valley Advance reports that there are 16 widows residing in Tullytown, within hailing distance of each other.

There is a station on the Flemington branch of the Belvidere Delaware Railroad for which a ticket has not been sold in 12 years.

Capt. C. H. Fenton has resigned his command of the three-masted schooner Xebec, and Captain John Thomas Riley takes his place. Captain Joseph Siddell continues to act as steward.

The old frame building formerly used by the America Hose Company was sold yesterday at public sale. It cost $700 to erect and Visiting hours at the new hose house are on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. The boys who run with the machines have their rooms fitted up tastefully and comfortable, and are naturally proud of their new quarters.

The committee on public property was directed to place insurance as follows: $1,000 on town hall, bell and clocks; $2,000 on No. 1 house and contents; $2,000 on No. 2 house.

We announce, with much regret, the death of Mrs. Thomas Ross, which took place at her residence in our borough on Sunday afternoon. She did not rally from the attack of paralysis, of two weeks ago, but gradually grew weaker.

Mrs. Ross was the daughter of Levi Fauling, Esq., a prominent member of the Montgomery county bar and representative in congress from that district and was married to the late Hon. Thomas Ross in October, 1832. She came immediately to Doylestown, and had spent almost half a century in the house in which she died. She was

lives have been cruelly marked by the war.

After 1918 school authorities decided against disbanding this organization because it offered such worthwhile opportunities for developing a sense of social and civic responsibility among the school children.

The type of work which these children did in the last war is being done today in the schools of this community. The greeting cards and favors for hospital trays which they make are not only stimulating gifts for wounded servicemen, but they add a practical and purposeful aspect to school art work. Similarly, games, writing tables, etc., for hospitalized war veterans, tie in with school work in manual training.

Gifts for needy children abroad and correspondence with them are other important parts of Junior Red Cross work. Certainly in tomorrow's era of the airways, children of all lands must learn to understand and respect each other's customs and countries. Surely this is the only practical way to strive toward a lasting peace because treaties will last only when they are idly written on hearts and minds. Intentions, whether of an individual or a nation, tear too easily on paper!

The money received in the Junior Red Cross Drive is used for the materials necessary in the school work, for the monthly magazine, the Junior Red Cross Journal, which is designed to further awaken the students' interest in good citizenship, and for local purposes. In this section, it is turned over to the Junior Red Cross chairman, Mrs. Carl J. Foell.

During the past year the money was used for various needs of local children—shoes, clothing, glasses, dental work, hospital care for one child, milk for needy children.

A group of 29 girls, between the ages of 11 and 13 years, meets every Monday night at Red Cross Headquarters, 120 Mill street, with Mrs. Foell. The girls do sewing and knitting and are at present working on an Afghan to be given to a veterans' hospital.

Lively competition is expected among the class-rooms and schools in the present drive. The aim of every class-room is 100 per cent membership. When $1.00 is obtained the class-room receives the Red Cross sticker for its window. For membership a child may pay as little as a penny or as much of his earnings as he wants to give to this worthwhile cause. A $1.00 contribution entitles him to an individual Red Cross sticker. When a school has 100 per cent class enrollment, it receives a large Red Cross flag to fly from its school flag pole.

The drive starts today! Let us soon see a Red Cross sticker in every classroom, a Red Cross flag flying above every school.

"THAT KEITH WOMAN"

by PHYLLIS MOORE GALLAGHER

SYNOPSIS

Letty Randolph, society reporter, persuaded distraught Pamela Keith not to cancel her daughter Sandra's debut, scheduled for that afternoon. "That Keith woman," as Letty's mother termed her, had long figured sensationally in the news. At 19, her elopement with Wayne Courtney, young medical student, was promptly annulled by her parents. Later, in South America, she met wealthy Richard Keith, who divorced his wife, Gladys Newcomb Keith, so he could marry Pamela. Richard was killed in an automobile accident shortly after their daughter Sandra's birth. Now, twenty years later, after numerous romantic interludes, Pamela was engaged to likable Luke Cramer—though everyone felt he was deserving of a better fate. At a recent party, Letty had observed Pam's uneasiness when she confronted Dr. Wayne Courtney, who had returned to Washington after fifteen years abroad. The Keith mansion, with its formal gardens, adjoins the hotel where Letty and her parents reside. Letty followed an often used path through an opening in the hedge, en route to Sandra's party. Letty noticed stark fear in Pamela's eyes as she welcomed her guests, while Sandra seemed grimly angry, especially when she greeted Victor Corliss, with whom she was in love. Letty observed Reginald, the Keith butler, strangely eyeing Gladys Newcomb, Richard Keith's long-ago-divorced wife. Later, when Countess Fanella Castagna presented handsome Peter Gibson, Letty was thrilled, but the startled when he told her he had crashed the party. She is relating the story.

CHAPTER FIVE

Peter Gibson had folded his arms and was staring at me with the eyes of a psychiatrist. I saw him taking in the cupids, hearts and flowers that were making a whirling dervish of my brain, and the color ran down from my hair to my cheeks. "You're itching to know why I'm here," he said; then he laughed. It was a swell laugh. The cockles of my heart not only warmed but blazed at white heat.

A reflection of that inner conflagration must have heightened my already fiery cheeks; I know I was as embarrassed as I'd been on my first whirl at Post Office. . . . For Peter Gibson said quietly, "I didn't know they made 'em like you any more, Letty." Said it with his eyes looking straight down into mine.

And I knew it wasn't a line. It just couldn't be a line. Or was it? I don't remember what Peter Gibson and I talked about, with Sandra Keith's debut eddying and whirling about. I was too dazzled to concentrate. I think maybe it was about the war. Anyway it was very serious, precise, absorbed—as sober as a young flyer on his first solo flight. And I felt all wiggly inside. . . . I know I was right when the Marvin Eustaces came along.

Marvin is a handsome duck. Tall, erect, perhaps forty-five, with waving gray hair, an eagle beak of a nose and small deep-set blue eyes. Elsie, his ball-and-chain, is "young-he was totally unconscious of me. He stood looking over my red head, over all the heads in that crowded dining-room. And he was staring straight at Pamela Keith.

"You're itching to know why I'm here," Peter Gibson said.

As if he wanted to shake Pam until her teeth rattled—as if he wanted to murder her! I remember I thought, this proves that the dopes who thought Pamela was breaking up the Eustaces' marriage were dead wrong.

Though the dining-room was hot, I felt cold and somehow—uneasy. There was Pamela Keith looking frightened, and daughter Sandra looking mad. There was Reginald, the butler, goggling Gladys Newcomb, the first Mrs. Richard Keith, in a way that took her breath. And now here was Marvin Eustace, whom everyone had said was crazy about Pamela, looking at her

And then I came to with a start! (To be continued)

ON THE SCREENS

RITZ THEATRE

As a spoiled, pampered and petted Parisienne society beauty who encounters the brutal realities of the Nazi invasion of France, Joan Crawford delivers one of her best performances in M-G-M's "Reunion in France," seen yesterday at the Ritz Theatre.

With Miss Crawford teamed with Philip Dorn and John Wayne, the story presents a romantic love story told against a background of intrigue, suspense and ever-present peril.

FASHION PARADE

By Milo Anderson

(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing For International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—You'll be cozy and warm in the new sculptured hats despite autumn's chill and winter's winds. Ears are snugly warm inside snug-fitting headgear. Warm fabrics, wool yarns, jerseys, velveteens and furs defy the rapidly falling temperature, while the warmth and brightness of colors bring cheer to grey days.

Balanced width is the keynote of the smart new turban worn by Ann Sheridan, lovely star of Warner's "Thank Your Lucky Stars." Stemming from 12th Century headgear, the turban emphasizes great width on the sides and flatness on top of the head. Ann's is of magenta bagheera cloth, fluidly draped from a center twist. It is worn with a golden-yellow wool dress, topaz and gold jewelry ensemble, and magenta colored gloves and bag.

A charming little hat that may be easily transposed from daytime to evening wear is one fancied by young Joyce Reynolds, also in "Thank Your Lucky Stars." It's a helmet cap of black net—perfectly plain—which forms a perfect basis for additional character-changing touches. In the daytime, Joyce slips on a side-flaring brim of black felt, secures it at the center-front with two diamond-headed hat-pins. The cap itself, plus an exciting clip or a sequined net to encase the black hair, puts it in the category of after-five wear.

Joan Bennett is wearing a hat of medieval inspiration. It's of black slipper satin with a high-crowned helmet, after the Byzantine silhouette, and long drapery that flows down below the shoulder. She anchors it to her coiffure with a diamond and amethyst pansy clip.

For suit wear, Kim Hunter has chosen a Dutch bonnet of turquoise anellope with the turned-up sides stitched in Delf Blue.

A hat similar to that worn by the ladies of the Court of Richard the Lion Hearted has been especially designed for Irene Dunne. In black velvet, the crown fits flat across the center of the head and then rises in arcs on each side. The arcs are faced with mauve rose satin. Miss Dunne wears the hat with black dinner dresses, accenting them with her canary diamond leaf clips at the neckline.

BRISTOL HIGH ELEVEN SCORES 14-7 VICTORY OVER LANGHORNE; GAME PLAYED IN DRIVING RAIN

LANGHORNE, Nov. 1.—With less than a minute to play, Bristol High scored on a forward pass to break a 7-7 deadlock and score a 14-7 victory over Langhorne High School here Saturday afternoon in a Lower Bucks County League contest played in a driving rain which made the handling of the ball difficult.

Prior to the pass, "Flower" Favosoro had recovered a Langhorne fumble to give Bristol possession of the ball. On the first play, Collins received the ball from center, ran back to the 25-yard line to get in position to throw the ball and then tossed a pass towards Leo Johnson who was standing near the goal-line. Reed, of the Langhorne team, attempted to block the thrown ball and it hit his finger-tips but bounced into the hands of Johnson. Johnson was hit as soon as he moved but was over the goal-line for the touchdown.

With McDevitt holding the ball, Marvin Collins place-kicked the extra point to make the final score 14-7. Only one play followed the kick-off and time was up.

The "Bunnies" were first to score in the contest, registering a six-pointer before the first quarter was over. The Langhorne team received a "break" when Elmer fumbled a kick and Lukens recovered on the Bristol 35. But on the first play, Johnson intercepted a pass on his own 30 to give Bristol the title to the ball.

On two plays, McDevitt made a first down and then Elmer broke loose off tackle and when about to be tackled lateralized the ball to Johnson who was downed on the homester's 45. Johnson gained eight yards on a cross-buck and McDevitt made it a first down on Langhorne's 34. Elmer gained two yards and was stopped on the next play but McDevitt cracked the line for a first down on the Redskins' 24. McDevitt and Elmer made eight yards on two plays but a penalty cost Bristol five yards. Elmer then slid through guard for a first down on the 14. McDevitt added five yards and Collins three. Elmer made it a first down on the Langhorne three yard line. McDevitt hit center for two yards and Elmer carried it over for the score. Collins converted the extra point.

While all this was going on, Langhorne was held without a first down in the first period but in the second session their offensive power began to click. Starting a drive on their 30-yard line they marched the entire length of the field to score.

A pass, Lukens to Schoenfeld started the drive. This was followed with another aerial, Lukens to Flak which accounted for 15 yards. Sneider tossed a pass to Lukens which was completed on the Bristol 38-yard line. Reed socked the Bristol line for a first down and carried the ball again for 12 yards. For the third consecutive time, Reed carried the ball and again he accounted for a first down to put the pig-skin on Bristol's 18. Sneider completed a short pass to Lukens. Reed was stopped by Fallon but on the next pass rifled the ball to Sneider for a first down on the Bristol 8. Reed made seven yards on a line play, being stopped less than a yard from the goal line. Lukens carried the ball over for the six-pointer. Sneider made the extra point to even the score a 7-7.

Bristol's line stood the task in the third period to hold the Langhorne team after it came within five yards of a score. Reed started the drive by breaking loose on an end run to skirt from his 45 to the Bristol 30. Reed followed this by heaving a pass to Flak who was downed on the 14. Lukens hit the line for five yards and Reed followed by making 4, one yard from a first down. Here the Bristol line showed its worth. Sneider hit the left side and was stopped in his tracks. Reed also tried for that remaining yard but lannucci and Mandio broke through to nail him.

That ended all of Langhorne's threats to score again and the fans settled down until Bristol put forth all it had in the final period although "Toby" Oriola brought the spectators to their feet before the quarter closed by heaving a pass from his 45-yard line to Collins on the Langhorne 27.

Elmer started something in the final period when he got off on an end sweep to run from his 20 to mid-field. But Sneider spoiled the run by intercepting a Bristol pass on the next play.

With five minutes to play, following an exchange of punts, Bristol made its final drive which came to a climax by the winning touchdown. The drive started on the Bristol 40 and Elmer and McDevitt took turns in carrying the ball. The march came to a halt when Langhorne braced itself on the six yard line and held the Bunnies for downs. Favosoro's recovery of the fumble followed shortly after.

Langhorne tried nine passes in the tilt. Six were completed, one knocked down and two intercepted. Of the Bristol five passes attempted, three were completed and two intercepted.

Next week, Bristol returns to its home field to clash with the Burlington team in the "Little Brown Jug" classic.

Installations of Telephones now subject to delays throughout the state

Because of shortages of telephone facilities there may be delays — in some cases considerable delays — on installations of telephone service

Telephone service takes many kinds of facilities and war has made these facilities hard to get.

Installing telephones involves three kinds of facilities — switching mechanisms, telephone lines and telephone instruments.

Serious shortages have developed in one or more of these types of facilities in every one of our central offices throughout the state.

In order to release vital war materials, additions to central office equipment, construction of telephone lines and manufacture of telephone instruments have been limited almost entirely to meeting the needs of the war or where public health and safety were involved.

The shortages of telephone facilities will prevent us, in most cases, from making installations promptly. Applicants for service and subscribers who move to homes in other localities will, in effect, be put on a "waiting" list and will get service just as soon as we can possibly furnish it.

Every effort has been made and will be made to serve as many people as possible — and as quickly as possible. We regret sincerely any inconvenience or hardship that may arise as a result of the shortages of telephone facilities. We are sure that you'll agree our fighting men have first call on the materials needed.

ty offices have made it clear that their election would place county government under the remote control of Washington. For this reason alone, I predict that the people of Bucks county, who have seen the tragic workings of the arrogant and tempestuous bureaucracy in control of Federal government will turn in an overwhelming victory for Republican candidates for county offices at tomorrow's election.

"The people of Bucks county cherish their liberty and independence too much to ever surrender them to political renegades of the New Deal. They recognize the New Deal as an impudent and scheming political dictatorship which considers itself greater than the Constitutional laws of the United States. They know that the New Deal's incessant reaching for more power is a repugnant plot to gain total jurisdiction over all civil rights and bring an end to personal initiative and free enterprise.

"Our liberties, our happiness, our opportunities, and our security are enshrined in the Constitution. It is our solemn duty to see that these rights and privileges are never confiscated, regimented or destroyed by New Deal hoodlums and petty bargainers whose political philosophy is diametrically opposed to every sound, honest and decent American tradition."

Approximately 70 requests have been received by the County Board of Elections for military ballots which have already been mailed to men and women in the armed forces, and 50 percent of which have already been returned. They must all be returned by November 12 and be postmarked not later than November 2 in order to be counted. Some of the military ballots were sent to A. P. O. addresses.

In addition to the local offices to be voted on, there is one State-wide contest for Judge of the Superior Court.

County offices to be filled include three County Commissioners, Register of Wills, County Treasurer, Clerk of Orphans' Court, Clerk of Quarter Sessions, Coroner and a County Surveyor.

In boroughs voters will cast ballots for councilmen, school directors, justices of the peace, constables, and auditors.

In townships they will choose supervisors, school directors, justices of the peace, constables and auditors. Judge and inspector of elections will also be elected in each of the county's 109 districts.

There are no special elections or referendums in this county next Tuesday.

Although three county commissioners are to be elected, the law provides that "each qualified elector shall vote for no more than two persons, and the three persons having the highest number of votes shall be elected."

Each party has two nominees for county commissioner and the effect of the law, therefore, is to insure representation of the minority party on the board of county commissioners.

A proposed constitutional amendment will also be on the ballot. It reads as follows: "Shall Section 11 of Article 8 of the Constitution be amended to permit the boundaries of election districts in townships and wards of cities to be fixed as provided by law instead of by the Court of Quarter Sessions?"

Letters To Editor

(The opinions expressed in the following communications are not necessarily those of the Editor.)

c/o Postmaster
San Francisco, Cal.
Editor of The Courier.

I am writing to you in regards to a clipping which I read in an Australian newspaper. It was about a New York columnist by the name of Westbrook Pegler criticizing Mrs. Roosevelt's trip to Australia. There were a couple comments by some Yanks back home about Mrs. Roosevelt's trip too.

I will now give my answer to Pegler. First of all they ought to put men like Pegler in the army and send him overseas for nine months, and let him do his writing over here. He would last here one day.

When Mrs. Roosevelt arrived here I couldn't go to see her as I was pretty busy. But they really gave her a big welcome. She visited every hospital in Australia, visiting American wounded men as well as Aussies. Mrs. Roosevelt was really on the go, visiting almost every hour, service clubs, etc. It was really some trip to take for some lady, and it was dangerous as I know. There is one instance which I remembered reading in the paper about Mrs. Roosevelt giving a couple of pins to a wounded soldier in a hospital. I know that any American soldier in Australia would back me up in saying that Mrs. Roosevelt's trip was not a wasted one.

250,000 UMW Soft Coal Diggers Out On Strike

Pittsburgh—Virtually all of the 250,000 UMW diggers in the soft coal fields of western Pennsylvania and West Virginia were out on strike today, grimly awaiting a move either by John L. Lewis or President Roosevelt against their "no contract, no work" stand.

A union spokesman predicted that even should the Government force Lewis to issue a return to work order, 90 per cent of the miners would refuse to go back unless there was actually a contract in sight.

Survey Indicates All of State's Anthracite Miners Idle

Wilkes-Barre—Preliminary surveys of the Pennsylvania hard coal fields indicated today that all of the State's 80,000 anthracite miners were idle. Reports disclosed that the collieries of the Glen Alden Coal Company, world's largest producer, were completely shut down while other huge operations also were inactive.

VOTE REPUBLICAN TOMORROW

New Deal goes merrily about the job of perpetuating itself in office.

Isn't it obvious that generations of Americans will be round-shouldered from the cruel weight of taxes necessary to repay this staggering Federal debt? Isn't it equally obvious, on the basis of their pitiful record, that the so-called financial "experts" and feather-brained theorists of the New Deal haven't the foggiest notion how this colossal war debt can be repaid?

Do they propose to do it by cudgeling the daylight out of industry in the form of new and heavier taxes it will be economically impossible to meet?

American industry, which provides the jobs so necessary to the sustenance of labor, cannot possibly survive if it is to be snowed under by oppressive taxes to compensate for the catastrophic inefficiency of bureaucratic Washington. If industry goes under to whom will American labor look for employment?

Industry can and will meet the huge requirements of post-war employment provided its efforts are not regimented or placed under the withering control of New Deal bureaucracy.

The great leaders of American industry are men who believe in the Republican principles of government. For this they have been ruthlessly persecuted by New Dealers who have long made industry their favorite whipping post.

The response of Bucks County voters to the issues of this election not only will deliver a stinging rebuff to Democratic candidates who would bring the malodorous flavor of New Deal politics to Bucks County but it will be a strong reaffirmation of our faith in the ennobling principles of progress and prosperity by which the Republican Party has proved itself the party of the people, regardless of class, creed or color.

There is a broad line of demarcation between the present New Deal brood and the old line Democrats who adhere to the honored principles of Thomas Jefferson. This newspaper does not believe that the real Democrats . . . men who believe assiduously in the American Constitution and the two party system of checks and balances . . . are in sympathy with the highbinder tactics of New Dealers who are using every trick in the political deck to set up a mono-party dictatorship every bit as dangerous as the totalitarian governments by which Hitler and Mussolini deluded and enslaved the peoples of their countries.

Certainly these old line Democrats do not approve of Washington's shameless wartime conniving so that New Dealers can lavish public funds upon their political constituents as part of the Fourth Term conspiracy. The promiscuous and indiscriminate use of Federal funds to build political fences behind the smokescreen of war is a repulsive indication of the way this country is headed unless an aroused citizenry moves now to spike the guns of this bureaucratic plunderbund.

The real Democrats of Jefferson's time, many of them residents of Bucks County, can express their sharp disapproval of this dangerous political hierarchy by joining hands with the thousands of independent and Republican voters who will cast their ballots tomorrow for progressive government in this county.

Let every honest, God-fearing, conscientious citizen who believes in the imperishable rights of American freedom remember to VOTE REPUBLICAN AND DEFEAT THE ENEMIES OF CONSTITUTIONAL UNITY AND ACCORD.
